PREFATORY AND EXPLANATORY.

It is a common remark, that "it takes all sorts of people to make a world." If any one doubts the truth of this adage, we would only say to him, let him collect the materials for the publication of a Directory. And as we have sometimes heard complaints that our work was incorrect, (although we believe it has generally given satisfaction) it may be well to advert to some of the numerous obstacles which lie in the way to insuring perfect accuracy in a work of this kind. Indeed it would seem that no person who duly reflected on these obstacles, could expect perfect accuracy; for it is a fact, singular as it may appear, that some of our citizens, and respectable men, too, wish their names omitted altogether, for some reasons best known to themselves. And as we do not wish to offend, these are of course omitted. Truly there is no accounting for taste. Although we always employ a careful person, whose business it is to visit every family in the city, and collect all names proper to be inserted, it will sometimes unavoidably happen that the head of the family will be absent, and after calling repeatedly, the information is at last perhaps obtained from a servant or child. Another difficulty in obtaining the names correctly, arises from the ignorance of some of whom information is sought, they being totally unable either to pronounce intelligently or spell correctly, their own name. This difficulty occurs mostly among the Irish part of our population. Another cause of what may appear to be errors, is that the names, although taken correctly at the time, soon cease to be correct, by the removal of the persons, perhaps in a very few days after they are reported. In such cases, however, the person inquiring is put upon the track, and can most generally find the person wanted.

It may be proper here to state, that as fourteen years have now elapsed since the numbers were affixed to the houses on such streets as are numbered, many of the numbers have been removed or worn out, and a considerable many houses need their numbers replaced. We should think it would be for the interest of their owners to replace them without delay.

While we do not and cannot expect perfect accuracy in a work of this kind, we will only further add, that we have used our best exertions to make it as correct as possible, and hope our humble efforts to please, may give satisfaction to our patrons.

In regard to the price of the work, we will only say, that we have continued it at the former low charge of 37 1-2 cts. although, without a liberal sale, it will not remunerate us. The price of the Albany Directory is $1—that of the Troy Directory 75 cts. the latter having a population of about two thirds that of Providence. It will thus be seen that our price is very low—and as it is designed for general utility, we trust it will receive a sale sufficient to make it an object not only to continue but to enlarge and improve it.

Providence, August, 1838.

PROVIDENCE DIRECTORY.

N. B. In order to avoid needless repetitions, the word street is omitted in the direction—it will, however, be understood, that 10 Water means 10 Water street, and the numbers of the houses are given on all such streets as are numbered. Persons unacquainted in the City, in looking for numbers will observe that the odd numbers are all on one side, and the even numbers all on the other, on all streets except those running by the water side.

☞ Where two directions are given, the first is the place of business, the last the place of residence.
